At that point, the order is reversed for the second round. Reversing the order continues then for each subsequent round until all players who participated in tryouts are drafted.

2. DRAFT ROUNDS 1 THRU 5: may be conducted per this rule. The selections of each team in the first five rounds are based on the categories of players that have been assigned to the team. Before the draft starts, the category of each player that is assigned to a team is determined. 3. Teams will be equalized After the fifth round, and in every other subsequent odd-numbered round, the total number of players that have been assigned to each team is determined. This includes daughters of Managers. The average number of players per team is then calculated. Any team that is equal to or less than the average gets a pick in the next even-numbered round. Note: Any team that has more than the average number of players does not get a pick in the next round.

4. The time limit between picks shall be 1 minute for rounds 1 through 5 and 2 minutes for all rounds after the fifth round. They will be placed in the appropriate draft round.

b. Players will be assigned to teams utilizing a “weighted draft”. As an example, if five teams in a division have one less player than the other teams in that division, they will be eligible to receive a post draft sign-up. The next team that would have selected in the regular draft will have five chances to receive the new player, the next team four chances and so on. The Manager’s name(s) (with the appropriate number of chances) will be put in a hat, and the the Manager’s name that is selected will receive the new player. When weighted draft is done; the Managers of that division need to be present.

c. If sisters are playing in the same age division, once a sister is selected, the Manager must select the other sister no later than the fourth round after the first sister was selected.
